The funeral of Festus J. Wade, founder and president of the Mercantile Trust Co., will take place at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow at the St. Louis Cathedral. Archbishop Glennon and Mgr. Tannrath, pastor of the Cathedral, both friends of Mr. Wade for many years, will conduct the services. Interment in Calvary Cemetery, will be private.

Mr. Wade, who was 67 years old, and nationally known through his success in finance and his activity in public matters, died at 8:05 o'clock last night at his home, 4522 Lindell boulevard, after an illness of more than two months. An operation for cancer of the throat, performed Aug. 9, was considered successful, and the throat had practically healed, when pneumonia developed one week ago today.

Because of his weakened condition, it was recognized that the appearance of pneumonia was very dangerous, and the last sacrament of the church was administered by Mgr. Tannrath several days ago. Yesterday and Tuesday, some hope was given by a partial clearing up of the congested right lung, but the strain on the heart had been much that collapse of the heart occurred.

Family at bedside.

Those present when death came were the members of the family, the Archbishop and Mgr. Tannrath, and Dr. I. D. Kelley Jr., attending physician. The members of the family are Mrs. Wade, formerly Miss Katherine V. Kennedy; a son, Festus J. Wade Jr., who is a vice president of the Mercantile Trust Co.; and three daughters, Mrs. Lee P. Warren of Washington, Mrs. C. Sewell Thomas of Denver and Miss Florence J. Wade.

Two hundred business and professional men were designated today as honorary pallbearers. Because of the rigid requirements of the St. Louis law, the Mercantile Trust Co. will not close at the time of the funeral.

Selection of Mr. Wade's successor as president of the trust company is not expected to take place immediately. George W. Wilson, a vice-president of the company, who was associated with Mr. Wade in the real estate business before the trust company was formed, is now in charge. The senior vice-president, Paul Brown, is out of the city. Other vice-presidents are William McMillan, C. H. McMillan, Hugh Powers, Thomas C. Hines, Arthur F. Barnes, Oliver F. Richards, Edward Butler, Festus J. Wade Jr., J. B. Mohrly and Sidney Maestre.

Mr. Wade carried $300,000 life insurance, distributed among several large companies. Some of these policies were taken out as late as July 1, when Mr. Wade passed the required physical examination.

Festus Wade's Rise from Street Car Driver to Banker.

For all practical purposes, Festus John Wade was a native of St. Louis. The family record shows that he was born in Limerick, Ireland, Oct. 14, 1859. But Mr. Wade came to America and to St. Louis the next year, and his earliest recollections were of St. Louis about the end of the Civil War.

STORM IS MOST DEADLY IN ST. LOUIS SINCE THE TORNADO OF 1899

Weather Bureau Had Seen It Coming—Area of Low Pressure Formed Over Kansas and Moved East.

damaged, with a property loss of $10,233,000.

The storm was one which had been expected, Weather Bureau officials said. An area of low pressure, forming over Central and Western Kansas, moved rapidly in this direction this morning. Reports of a tornado near Fort Smith, Ark., were attributed to the same atmospheric causes.

In Forest and Tower Grove Parks, and in other parks to a less degree, trees were damaged and several roadways were blocked by fallen limbs.

Some of the lesser damage downed trees and plate glass. Sixteen windows on the south side of the Holland Building, on Seventh street near Olive, were blown out.

Pole Falls Across Truck.

Walter Riss of 4925 Nottingham Avenue, driver of a truck, was seriously injured at Vandeventer avenue and De Tonty street when a pole carrying high-tension electric wires fell across the seat of the truck. He was hoisted by electricians who had pinned him in the truck, from which he was released with difficulty by policemen.

An unidentified man, who had been injured in the vicinity of 1000 North Grand boulevard, was treated by a physician in the neighborhood and then removed to city hospital. Apparently his condition was serious.

Edward Courans of Ferguson suffered injuries to his left arm and right leg when a brick wall of the Federal Truck garage, 4022 West Pine boulevard, collapsed.

A part of the roof of Marquette School, 2110 North Euclid, between Vandeventer, collapsed, demolishing one room of the school building. Ben Weidle, president of the Board of Education, visited the school a few minutes after the storm, and helped in quieting the children. He said a special meeting of the Board of Education would be held tonight to authorize immediate repairs to the damaged building.

Children in the St. Louis University High School, on Oakdale avenue near Kingshighway, frightened by the storm which tore away parts of the roof and cornices, were quieted by their teachers. They were brought together in several rooms to be soothed and assured there was no danger until the blow had abated. Then they went into the neighborhood to aid in relief work.

At 400 South Euclid avenue the trolley wire of the Taylor street car line, the connection broken, dangled on the street. A guard was stationed by it to warn away motorists.

Twelve men were buried in the debris of a building at 1239 South Vandeventer avenue, police were informed. All except two were rescued unhurt. The building is owned by the Missouri and Steel Metal manufacturers.

High Voltage Wire Tangled With Phone Lines; Warning Issued.

Danger from high-voltage light wires, entangled with telephone and other wires blown down, was pointed out by tel phone company officers. About 60 telephone poles were blown down in various parts of the city, first reports indicated.

How YEAST and IRON Makes Weight and Strength

Iron Yeast is two tonics in one—weight-building Yeast and strengthening Iron. The Yeast is a tonic in itself, which makes malt so beneficial. It is specially suited for yeast, containing yeast to give the utmost in flavor and value.

This Yeast is treated with pure vegetable iron, the same as in spinach, lettuce and celery. In that form iron is easily assimilated by the body and rich in red blood and toning up nerves and muscles.

Only when Yeast is Ironized in this way is it safe to eat. It is the only Yeast to eat the weight-building value of Yeast. By this special formula Ironized Yeast gives the same weight-building value required by yeast or iron taken separately.

It cleans the blood of impurities that rain down upon us, so that you get a clean, healthy skin. Go to your druggist and get Iron Yeast. It will prove to you that it is made attractive, healthy, on nice tasty tablets to a taste. They clean up the stomach not cause gas or bloating.

CAUTION!

While the amazing health-building value of IRONIZED YEAST has been entirely positive, it has been stated in cases of lack of energy, indigestion, constipation, skin eruptions, poor complexion, etc., that the Yeast should not be used by anyone who objects to having weight increased to normal. © 1927—A.Y.C.

YOUR ST. LOUIS

How Well Do You Know It?

ELY & WALKER DRY GOODS COMPANY, wholesalers, manufacturers, converters, importers and distributors of dry goods and kindred lines, is rounding out its fifth year in business in St. Louis.

ELY & WALKER, established in 1878, while pioneers in the Washington Avenue wholesale district, have kept pace with the progress of St. Louis as a distributing market, and today manufactures a great part of the merchandise it sells.

In addition to its three large store buildings and its warehouse building, located in St. Louis, this company operates 33 factories, the largest of which are located in St. Louis.

ELY & WALKER's activities give employment to 4,000 people and its payroll expenditures annually run about $5,000,000. The lines of merchandise vary from luggage to copies of Paris modes for women. The total floor space owned or leased by the Company approximates 2,000,000 square feet. And although the sales force reaches every state in the Union and many foreign countries, all the business of the company is transacted through the St. Louis headquarters—contributing much towards the development and maintenance of St. Louis as a market center for the great Southern and Southwest territories, carrying on the traditions that make for the spirit of St. Louis.

Every day Ely & Walker contributes to some one particular manufacturing plant or industry which is contributing to the dynamic growth of St. Louis.

WIDOW OF ORGAN BUILDER, 95, SAYS RADIO AIDS HOME LIFE

Music makes the home. Mrs. Mrs. Christine Pirl of 2025 South Jefferson avenue, meditated yesterday after listening to a radio program on her ninety-fifth birthday. She grew reminiscent over the memory of home music—the old reed organ, the piano, the “canned music” of the phonograph and now the radio. Today Mrs. Pirl’s favorite is the newest piano organ solo, but all she said, went far to make a home attractive, to keep the youngsters there and to influence them against running wild when they step out. She is the widow of William Pirl, pioneer St. Louis organ builder.

OVERLAND GROUP ORGANIZES TO GET RID OF DOG TRACK

Association Plans to Incorporate New Town Which Then Will Outlaw Racing Plant Within Its Limits.

The Wellston Kennel Club, whose new dog racing plant on St. Charles road lies in an unincorporated section of St. Louis County—and is therefore, without the interferences of town officers and ordinances—is to be brought within the limits of a new county municipality, if plans launched last night are carried to completion.

The plans, which were laid before the school board of Overland in Ritterour High School, contemplate the incorporation of the Overland Park district, a section which could muster a total of 12,000 inhabitants with $7,000,000 worth of taxable property.

Impressed with the necessity for incorporation by the lack of police protection and the absence of other advantages that a town might offer, the association was organized a week ago under the leadership of Orlo M. Hill and Jerry Mulloy, attorneys who live in the Overland district.

At the meeting last night a committee of 12 was chosen to select boundaries for the proposed town. As discussed last night the town will probably extend east to we hope will be representative of the community," Hill said. "To that end we have elected only temporary officers. Other residents of the community will be invited to join our organization and we will elect permanent officers on the first Friday in December."

DUQUOIN, Ill., Sept. 29.—Federal prohibition enforcement officers working out of East St. Louis confiscated 25,000 gallons more of mash and alcohol yesterday in their clean-up of the Italian section of the city. Fifty thousand gallons of mash was discovered Tuesday.

Their second day's raids brought the total amount of confiscated mash and "white mule" up to 75,000 gallons, which according to revenue officers represents a sale value of $60,000.

Fire engines have been used for the greater part of two days pumping the mash from the basements of homes. At one home today a cistern was found to contain 2000 gallons of mash instead of water. At most of the places raided the occupants or supposed manufacturers of the alcohol were away, although one arrest was made today.

Bennett Doty Is Out of Prison, but Faces Four Years of Military Service.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Sept. 29.—Bennett J. Doty, young American soldier of the French Foreign Legion, must complete his enlistment of five years in the legion even though the French Government has paroled him. He has served part of an eight-year prison sentence for desertion.

Discipline demands the completion of the enlistment contract, the French War Department holds, and Doty must go back to the ranks for four years and one month—the period of enlistment uncompleted.

Doty, whose pardon formally was signed by President Doumergue this morning, will be under orders to rejoin the first regiment of the Foreign Legion now at Sidi-Bel-Abbes, Algeria.

It is understood that Doty left prison this morning en route to Marseilles, whence he will leave on the first available transport for Algeria.

Doty has expressed in the past perfect satisfaction with the thought of getting back in the open again whether it means service in Morocco or Algeria.

MONACADA TO RUN FOR

PRESIDENT OF NICARAGUA

Leader of Liberals in Recent Revo-

est of Electoral Law.

By the Associated Press.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Sept. 29.—Gen. Jose Maria Moncada, prominent as leader of the Liberals in the recent revolution, announced yesterday his candidacy for the presidency in 1928.

Gen. Moncada left for the United States today declaring that he was going there to work for an equitable electoral law as promised by Henry L. Stimson, who was President Coolidge's representative in the Nicaraguan peace negotiations, and Gen. McCoy.

The Liberal General signed the Stimson pact at Tipitapa last May.

STEERS HIGHEST IN 7 YEARS

Top Price of $15.75 Per Hundred Pounds Reached.

To popularity of barbecue is partly attributed the high price of steers. Steers sold at top price of $15.75 per hundred pounds at National Stock Yards yesterday, the highest level reached in nearly 7 years, or since October 1920. Other causes assigned for advance are lighter receipts and cool summer.

Demand for beef has kept up despite relatively cheaper basis for pork. A cattle shortage is said to exist as result of low prices several years ago.

CLEAN Teeth

That explains why teeth brushed with Colgate's are always dazzling clean

SPARKLING, clean, healthy teeth . . . they tell a story of good care and clean health . . . a story of daily brushing with a dentifrice that has done the one thing it is supposed to do.

For a tooth paste can only clean . . . just as a tooth brush can only brush. And the dentifrice that succeeds in cleansing teeth and gums and mouth has enough to do . . . without attempting to treat those teeth and gums, that mouth.

Colgate's has one sole aim
—to clean—to gloriously
clean.

A little Ribbon Dental

Cream brushed over your teeth—and at once the finely powdered calcium carbonate loosens all particles of food that have lodged on or in between the teeth.

And by this time the paste
has broken into a white, refreshing foam that takes the loosened food into solution and washes it away.

Thus the causes of decay
are removed . . . thus teeth and mouth are scrubbed and washed clean. Dentists recommend Colgate cleanliness...

REYNOLDS HEIR LEAVES
ST. LOUIS UNOBSERVED

Presumably for Chicago to Wait Till Excitement Dies
in New York.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Richard J. Reynolds, the 21-year-old heir to the R. J. Reynolds tobacco millions, is trying to give New York the slip a second time. He slipped away for the Dempsey-Tunney fight in Chicago two weeks ago so unobtrusively that a stir over his disappearance abated only when he turned up Tuesday night in a Chinese restaurant in St. Louis enjoying the fuss over his absence as a "big joke on somebody." Now, with his "vacation" over, he is trying to slip into New York again without attracting notice.

Reynolds, who is not coming to New York until people stop bothering me and then I'm coming back quietly," he told Val O'Farrell, head of a private detective agency, over the long-distance telephone after O'Farrell's St. Louis associates had been "tipped off" for a promise of $3000, that Reynolds could be found in the chophouse restaurant.

Reynolds, by avoiding the usual channels of travel, got out of St. Louis yesterday unobserved. He is believed to have gone to Chicago to wait until the "excitement" as he referred to it, dies down.

Among the New Yorkers most anxiously awaiting the return of the young millionaire is Walter S. Glick, 24-year-old head of the Wally Theatrical Attractions and Wally Productions, Inc. He will suggest that Reynolds hand over about $15,500 to pay the salaries of the principals and incidental expenses of the musical comedy, "Half a Widow," which closed soon after Reynolds left New York, Sept. 17.

Reynolds was reported to have been the "angel" of the show, but he denied this to reporters in St. Louis.

"I just signed a $4000 equity bond for a friend interested in the show and allowed my name to be used as reference," he explained. "You couldn't call me the backer."

of Glick, insists Reynolds is the actual backer, but confessed it would be difficult to compel Reynolds to foot the bill, as there was only a verbal agreement.

Telegraphed Detectives From Belleville, "Off for Chicago."

Reynolds, manager of the St. Louis Bureau of the Hargrave detective agency, in a telegram late yesterday, he was "off for Chicago and New York." The telegram was sent from Belleville. Apparently he had motored there or taken a street car. After disappearing in the rain early yesterday morning, he went to the Bristol Hotel, Fersingh and De Baliviere avenues, to rest before leaving St. Louis after his five-day vacation here, a large part of it spent at the dog and horse races.

THIRD OF NEGROES LIVE IN CITIES, CHURCHMAN SAYS

Problem of Ministering to Their Moral Welfare Discussed by Dr. W. A. C. Hughes.

One in every three Negroes in the United States now lives in the city, while 40 years ago only one in five lived in the large centers of population. Dr. W. A. C. Hughes of Philadelphia, yesterday told delegates to the National Conference of Negro City Workers, at Union Memorial M. E. Church, 208 North Leffingwell avenue.

Seventy-five per cent of the Negro population of the North live in 10 industrial centers, Chicago, Detroit, New York, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Philadelphia and Kansas City, the Rev. Dr. Hughes said.

"This makes a serious problem," he continued. "Every Pullman car going out of Chicago is equipped by Negro workers. The church must minister to the spiritual, moral and social leadership of these Negroes."

HOLDS OUT ON RACE BET AND REPORTS ROBBERY

Joseph Martino Said to Admit
He Didn't Wager Money
as Directed.

Following the report of Joseph Martino, manager of a grocery and meat market at 1238 South Broadway, that he and a clerk had been held up in the store yesterday and $800 taken, police learned from Gus Eichschlag, a butcher, 4071 Washington boulevard, that he had given Martino $300 to bet on Battie On, a horse which ran at Churchill Downs Tuesday. His bets were $150 to win and $150 to show, or run third. Eichschlag said.

Battle On won and paid $19.80 for $2 on bet to win, and $5.40 for $2 on a bet to show. On this basis Eichschlag should have collected $1875 for his $300.

Martino, questioned, admitted, police said, that he had taken the $300 wager on the terms Eichschlag specified. "But I didn't make much money on Battle On," he said. "I had decided not to put all the money on him. I bet $100 on the horse to win and $50 to show, and held out $150."

The odds paid by the horse's victorious race would have yielded Eichschlag $1115 for the money Martino says he placed.

EX-CASHIER FREED OF BANK
ROBBERY ON SECOND TRIAL

Thomas Bugg Freed at Cape Girardeau; Witnesses Get Year
for Contempt.

Special to the Post-Discuss.
CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., Sept. 29.—After Grady Beason and Ben McPherson, now serving terms in prison for bank robbery, had refused to testify, Thomas Bugg, former bank cashier, was acquitted in Circuit Court at Jackson yesterday of plotting the robbery of the Bank of Vanduser, three years ago.

Beason and McPherson, for refusing to testify, were asked if Bugg was connected with the robbery, were sentenced to serve a year in jail for contempt of court.

At Bugg's first trial, when he was found guilty, they testified that Bugg had aided them in plotting the holdup, and had shared the loot with him. At the first trial Bugg was sentenced to 10 years in prison, but the Supreme Court reversed the decision.

Beaseon, one of the men accused of the robbery, held on the stand yesterday that Bugg had no knowledge of it. Parsons did not testify at Bugg's first trial.

Bugg, who had been cashier of the Vanduser bank, but had no connection with it at the time of the robbery, now resides in St. Louis, where he is employed as a conductor.

Three unmasked men held up the bank June 27, 1924, and escaped with $1800, all the bank's money.

3 HELD FOR RUNNING LOTTERY

Scheme in Chicago Said to Have Taken $150,000 in 18 Months.

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29.—An alleged lottery scheme whereby at least $150,000 was obtained from subscribers during the last 18 months was revealed by detectives in a raid on a suburban home and the arrest of three men yesterday.

The alleged lottery operated under the name of the North American Mutual Beneficial Association, according to police, and its connections were said to have been nationwide. Headquarters of the association were said to be in Chicago.

The trio accused as the operators of the lottery, Julian J. Maggiano, 55; John Urban Sr., 30, and Walter J. Fotts, 28, were held in jail for court. Two young women stenographers also were arrested in the raid, but later were released.

MOORE

TO BE ONE OF YANKEES' STARTING PITCHERS IN SERIES

HUGGINS PICKS HIS "BIG FOUR" FOR TITLE SET

Pennock or Hoyt Likely to Be Twirler in Opening Battle — Shocker to Be Other Starter.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The big four of the Yankee twirling staff for the world series battle probably will consist of Waite Hoyt, Herb Pennock, Urban Shocker and Wilcy Moore, the "sinker ball" expert.

This is the expectation of Miller Huggins, pilot of the American League champions, but he hasn't determined what order he will work his hurlers, nor is he likely to commit himself to any set program.

"That's the way it looks," Huggins explained. "But neither you nor I can say what the play will develop. The first game might upset my whole program. I haven't decided on a starting pitcher."

Expecting an improbable regard Pennock, the veteran southpaw, or Hoyt, as the likely opening game choice.

Moore to Be Regular.

The selection of Wilcy Moore to shoulder a regular share in the mound burden shoves Dutch Rueter and Bob Shawkey, two veterans of world series combat, into the background. Unless there are some developments, they are likely to remain in the reserve corps, along with George Pipgras and Myles Thomas, stars of baseball.

Moore is one of Huggins' 1927 developments. The South Carolina recruit, excelling most of the season in relief roles, has been taking a regular turn in the box and displaying excellent form.

Keeping his pitching staff in shape is one of Huggins' biggest tasks before the start of the series next Wednesday in the stronghold of the National League pennant winner.

"I plan to give them all a few inning work in the three remaining games with Washington here today, tomorrow and Saturday," Huggins said.

Kremer Brilliant Hurler.

The Yankee manager hasn't had any time and opportunity to study the Pirate hurlers who are expected to be the opening corps, but he expects Ray Kremer to give his slingers perhaps the most trouble.

"Kremer is big, strong and has a lot of stuff, as well as speed, they tell me," Huggins remarked.

Baseball men agree with Huggins on this score. Kremer, out with a bad knee for two months, has had a brilliant form since taking his regular turn again. He has been working harder than a regular would require, in fact, and thriving on the extra work. The big Californian won two games against Washington in 1925, besides pitching part of a third contest. He is likely to be Pittsburgh's starting choice and, if the series battle is prolonged, figure in three games.

DEMSEY APPEARS BEFORE COURT IN SUIT FILED BY HAYES

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, appeared in the Supreme Court today to undergo examination before trial in a suit brought by his former trainer, Theodore (Teddy) Hayes for $62.32.

Hayes said that for six years, from 1919 to 1925, he paid Dempsey for his successful fights against the late Billy Miske, the late Bill Brennan and Georges Carpenter, and that the money asked is due him for these services.

Through his counsel Dempsey denied that he owed Hayes anything.

Good Pitchers Effective Against "Murderers' Row"

Yanks' Record Against Good Pitchers for 1927 Campaign

Following is a table showing just what the Yankees have accomplished when opposed by good pitchers this season:

Name	W.	L.	R.	H.	SO.	BB.	Inn.	Av. R.
Lisenbee	1	5	14	35	23	12	48	2.61
Hudlin	2	4	18	52	15	19	45	1.3

against the enemy. There is no denying that on records Alexander and Haines rank with anything in the American League. And as far as southpaws are concerned, Little Sherdell is the good day.

It is the case, as Little Sherdell and Harold Wiltse, Wiltse, and others will be on duty. Faber, who, like Grimes, is a spitballer in one of his starts against the Yankees stopped the New York ers with one run and seven hits in 10 innings to gain the decision.

In making the analysis of the Yankees' work against men who are considered good pitchers, the following are included: Horace Lisenbee, Senators; Ted Lyons and Urban Faber, White Sox; Lefty Grove and Ed Rommel, Athletics; Earl Whitehill, Tigers; and Harold Wiltse, Red Sox. Wiltse, it is true, is with a tallend club, but is nonetheless regarded as one of the coming southpaw stars of baseball.

Youngsters Fool Jugglers.

It is against these men that the Yankees have made a sorry showing. Statistics show that they have been able to hit them, but they have been unable to crush them. Lisenbee and Hudlin are youngsters. Each is serving his first full campaign in the majors. But beating the Yankees has been their specialty. Lisenbee has trimmed them five out of six and Hudlin four of six. Thus the two youngsters have captured nine battles from Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig & Co. while dropping but three decisions. The only time the New Yorkers have been able to stop Lisenbee came while he was serving in the relief role. In each of the five contests he has started, the Senator right-hander has been credited with victory.

What is more, Lisenbee has been mighty effective against Huggins' maulers. He has worked against the American League champions in 48 innings and in that time has a record of 14-14, with an average of 2.61 tallies each nine runs. Hudlin has been hit harder, as in 45-13 rounds the high-salaried workers of Col. Ruppert have put across 15 tallies, or 3.60 a nine-inning game.

LYONS ON ALL-AMERICAN TEAM.

When Babe Ruth recently announced his all-American team for the season Ted Lyons was one of the pitchers. Lyons' work against Yankees probably had something to do with the selection. Lyons started the year by forcing the men of Huggins' three straight. Since then, however, he has been beaten twice. He has worked 45 innings against the Yanks, or five complete games, and has been scored upon 20 times, an average of 4.05 runs a contest.

Lefty Grove, Connie Mack's star left-hander, has been battered hard, but he has won two out of three. What's more, Grove has the distinction of being the only pitcher in the American League to shut out the New Yorkers during 1926.

Wiltse, though with a tallend, has stopped the Yanks twice, while losing three battles. Earl Whitehill, another star, has won two and lost two.

Facing three veterans, all of them good pitchers, and rated as such, hardly so long ago, the Huggins slingers have had success, though passing success. These men are Urban, Rommel and Faber. Rommel, who with his knuckle ball, a few years back was regarded as a "Yankee Killer" has been pounded for a fare-thee-well. Proof is found in the fact that in 2-3 innings he has been thumped for 4.05 runs a contest.

Flynn Receives
$75,000 Check
From Dempsey

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—THE services of Leo P. Flynn in his fight with Jack Dempsey have been worth $75,000 to the former champion over a 90-day period. Dempsey has given Flynn a check for that amount under a blank contract in which the Manassa Mauler was allowed to stipulate the sum at the expiration of the agreement.

Next to Flynn the biggest check paid by Dempsey was that to Jerry Luvadis, known as "Jerry the Greek." While the exact amount was not revealed it is understood to be $25,000. Definite information regarding the payment by Tunney for the services of his manager, Billy Gibson, was lacking, but it is estimated at $10,000 to $15,000. Lou Fink, the champion's trainer, was scheduled to receive a bonus of $20,000. Bill McCabe and Eddie Edmunds, two of Tunney's close friends, were to share in the titleholders' Chicago earnings of $100,000.

Cleveland Plays C. B. C. Tomorrow

Beaumont Will Open Football Season With Practice Game Against Normandy.

The Cleveland and Beaumont eleventh of the Public High School League will open the football season tomorrow afternoon with practice games. Cleveland will oppose the C. B. C. team of the Preparatory League and Beaumont will face Normandy of the County League.

The Cleveland-C. B. C. game will be played on the C. B. C. campus at 4 o'clock, while the North Sider and Normandy will meet on the Beaumont gridiron at 3 p.m.

Both schools have a heavier team than last season, and the Beaumont-Arcie eleven, the man that ever won a conference championship and got left of the sack the next season.

"I guess a guy can have a bad day now and then and still be entitled to some credit," said the conductor indignantly. "Let them young kids go get a reputation and then they'll get the credit."

"Well, if they went out and got a reputation like some of them regular guys on the illegible list they'd get a 10-day notice to get out."

"But you know the other players will make up a pot for the kids out of their own shares," suggested the king of punchers.

"Yes, I know what kids always get—they get to goats, if they live long enough."

After which the conductor opened the cue and let the game escape by the rear door.

But there are some other hard-boiled eggs around the corners still sounding off that same way.

SPokane-to-Portland FLIGHT WON BY IOWAN

Leslie C. Miller of Des Moines first in 300-Mile Class B Air Race.

By the Associated Press.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 29.—Racing in the face of a gale that swept the Columbia gorge, Leslie C. Miller of Des Moines, Ia., won first prize of $1000 yesterday in the Class B Spokane-to-Portland air race over a field of 13 starters. His elapsed time for the 300-mile flight was four hours, 31 minutes, 55 seconds. Miller, who flew in an Eagle Rock biplane, was second in the New York-to-Spokane Class B race last week.

Immediately following came C. W. Meyers of Detroit, who was the winner of the Class B race last week. He won second prize, $500. Gerald F. Smith of Tacoma took third prize of $250.

E. J. Detmer of Tarrytown, N.

Y. was second in reaching Pasco, where the racers were required to make a 30-minute stop, placed fourth on elapsed time. Engine trouble which forced him to make a landing a short distance from Portland prevented him from winning one of the prizes. He was leading Miller by about two miles when motor trouble caused him to land. He made adjustments and resumed his flight, landing here fifth.

Bad winds, rain and low visibility were encountered by the racers during much of the flight, though the start from Spokane was under sunny skies.

E. E. Balough of Chicago, driving his Laird commercial biplane at 117.02 miles an hour, won the 24-lap race from C. W. (Speed) Holman of St. Paul at the start of local derby events. Holman's speed was 115.42 miles an hour.

CAUSE OF PLANE CRASH FOUND

German Inquiry Shows Fitting of Back Stay Broke.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Sept. 29.—The air
crash at Schleissheim, in which Baron
Ago con Maltzan, German Ambassador to the United States, was
killed, was not caused by sabotage,
says a German investigation. "The
crash was caused by a mechanical failure," says a report made by an official inquiry commission, submitted to the Ministry of Transport.The report says the upper fitting of the left back stay broke.
The pilot took ample precautions
while endeavoring to make a forced landing, this point being shown by the fact that the occupants had
time to strap themselves down.
The court also says that the
plane did not take fire, but
when the plane approached the
earth, the wing broke off completely, and the machine dropped
like a stone. The break in the fitting, the report said, possibly was caused by a flaw or possibly it is his own fault," said Ryan, "because I saw him a copy of the invitation."Ryan is 50 years old and is the father of five children. He is employed as janitor in a printing
plant here.German and Denmark made inquiries concerning the scope of the investigation.The impending celebration was news to Mayor Nichols and other
municipal department heads.

LEAGUE DEBATES U. S. STAND ON WORLD COURT

Council Unable to Decide Whether Majority May Ask for an Advisory

THIS POINT KEPT AMERICANS OUT

Several Insist on U. S.
View That Such Requests
Must Be Unanimous—
Adjourn Till Dec. 5.

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, Sept. 29.—The Council of the League of Nations finished its work yesterday and will not meet again until Dec. 5.The refusal of the United States to join the World Court of Justice because of differences as to advisory opinions by the court was suddenly made the subject of discussion in the Council. The matter crept into the debate on the Greco-German controversy touching the Greek claim to the Salamis cruiser. Salamis built for Greece by a German shipyard. It transformed an unimportant question into an extremely important one by raising the issue as to whether, in asking for advisory opinions from the World Court the Council must vote unanimously or by a majority.Uruguay member for Columbia advocated asking for an advisory opinion from the World Court whether the Council possessed competence to interpret the treaties of Versailles and to which had decided whether the treaty prevents Germany from exporting war material, even if contracted for before the outbreak of the war,
as happened in the Salamis case.
Lord Onslow of Great Britain, and Loudon of Holland, opposed asking the court for an advisory opinion; whereupon Scialo of Italy, reported that unanimity was not necessary anyway, because requests for such opinions were acts of procedure, not of policy.This brought Titulescu, Foreign Minister of Rumania, to his feet with a vehement affirmation that unanimity was necessary."One reason why the United States did not adhere to the statutes of the World Court," he said,
"was because America was not assured that unanimity was essential to be decided hardly."Uruguay's report from the report of members of the World Court that the Fifth American Reservation appeared to rest upon the presumption that requests for advisory opinions required unanimity of the council."But," he added, "no such presumption so far has been established."Like Villegas he preferred to avoid a definite decision on this issue. The council agreed with his view and the question still remains open. The Salamis dispute was postponed until the December meeting.The United States claimed the right of veto on all requests for advisory opinions on matters in which it claimed an interest, hence assuming that unanimity of the council was necessary, as under the majority system opinions could be asked, in spite of an American veto."But," he added, "no such pre-

CAUSE OF PLANE CRASH FOUND

German Inquiry Shows Fitting of Back Stay Broke.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Sept. 29.—The air
crash at Schleissheim, in which Baron
Ago con Maltzan, German Ambassador to the United States, was
killed, was not caused by sabotage,
says a German investigation. "The
crash was caused by a mechanical
failure," says a report made by an
official inquiry commission, submitted to the Ministry of Transport.The report says the upper fitting of the left back stay broke.
The pilot took ample precautions
while endeavoring to make a forced
landing, this point being shown by
the fact that the occupants had
time to strap themselves down.
The court also says that the
plane did not take fire, but
when the plane approached the
earth, the wing broke off completely, and the machine dropped
like a stone. The break in the fitting, the report said, possibly was
caused by a flaw or possibly it is
his own fault," said Ryan, "because I saw him a copy of the invitation."Ryan is 50 years old and is the father of five children. He is employed as janitor in a printing
plant here.German and Denmark made
inquiries concerning the scope of
the investigation.The impending celebration was
news to Mayor Nichols and other
municipal department heads.

Woman's Brain Equal to Man's, Cornell U. Expert Declares

Dr. Papez Makes the Statement After Examining Brain of Helen H. Gardener, Feminist.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 29.—A study of the brain of Helen H.
Gardener, noted feminist, and at the time of her death, member of the United States Civil Service Commission, has furnished evidence that the brain of a woman need not be inferior to that of a man of equal rank. This is the conclusion of Dr. James W. Papez, curator of the Burt G. Wilder brain collection at Cornell University, who has just completed a study of Mrs. Gardener's brain.He compared it with those of 20 men and women in the collection, and he declared that "in its entire organization" it reveals a series of remarkable features, the most important of which is the fact that the brain of a woman is equal to that of a man of equal rank.Mrs. Gardener willed her brain to Cornell University in 1897 in trust to the Cornell Board of trustees for brains which might be used for study and research in a relatively unexplained branch of science. Her request was affirmed at the time of her death in 1925.

VISION Lobe Highly Developed.

Summing up Dr. Papez finds:
"The brain of Helen H. Gardener has now been compared at the Cornell laboratory, in each of its details with the brains of 20 other men and women. Many areas were shown to be of unusual development and these areas, we deal chiefly with the functions of vision, learning, language, thought

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress, reform, never tolerate vice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be dramatic and dependent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plotters or predatory poverty.

Wants to Succeed Jack Neiman.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I HAVE been reading about the Jack Neiman case. Since I am a stranger in town and would like to make some easy money, would you mind telling me how to go about becoming a professional bondsman? I own no property, but that seems to be no handicap in the bonding business here. J. A. N.

Career Men All.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Now that Mr. Coolidge has appointed Dwight Morrow, a Wall street career man, Ambassador to Mexico I understand six vice presidents of the United Fruit Co. are demanding consulates in the banana republics, and that the president of an Akron tire company wants to be made Governor-General of the Philippines so he can have his office closer to the source of future rubber supply. DIPLOMACY.

Wants a Lindbergh Sculpture.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Y OUR recent editorial "A Monument to Lindbergh" and also J. B.'s letter, "Airport as Lindbergh Monument" do not in my opinion reflect the true spirit of St. Louis.

There is a chance to add a piece of beauty and art in sculpture, to a city deplorably lacking in monuments, and yet there are those who would defeat the movement for a statue, for the sake of practical usefulness.

The airport will come anyway. It should be grand and should also be a monument to Col. Lindbergh. But is not sufficient after all that Lindbergh has done for St. Louis? What could be more fitting than a beautiful monument in stone or bronze that all St. Louisans would be proud to point out to visitors? G. R. G.

Pullman Porters Oppose Tipping.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

WE ask for space to tell the public of the progress of the movement among the Pullman porters to abolish the custom of tipping and to obtain from the railroads an increase in wages sufficient to make tipping unnecessary. The Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters has just received notice from the Interstate Commerce Commission that their petition to the railroads company in this matter has been received, and a copy of it has been forwarded to each carrier. "With notice to satisfy the complaint, or answer in writing within 20 days" from Sept. 17.

The porters object to present methods of compensation, including low wages and the receipt of tips, on the ground that the tipping custom marks their occupation as menial and makes their incomes a matter of chance.

Places Us in Bush-League Class of Boxing Experts.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Y OUR man, Dempsey, although the "roughest boy of them all," was not equal to the task of standing the hard-hitting, clear-thinking Tunney. As an editorial writer, I admire your work. As an expert on boxing matters, I cannot place you above the bush-league class. Tunney has proved conclusively that he is a master boxer and can take a tremendous amount of punishment and still remain strong and clear-headed. Probably as time goes on he will merit your opinion of him as a student and a scholar but never can be considered as a dreamer or sissy. Tunney is no doubt at the top of his profession today and if his taste runs to boxing we must give him credit for this. Do not try to make us believe that a real man-like Gene Tunney is not the best boxer in the ring. MIKE CAMPION.

Freak Buildings on Widened Olive Street
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THE writer owns no property on Olive Street, but rides down the widened part daily and is greatly interested in seeing it improve and become a credit to the city. The removal of debris, laying sidewalk on south side, and paving, will not improve the street much so long as certain cheap, freakish buildings remain as eyesores on the south side. Of course there are still a number of half-wrecked buildings with fronts cut off that look terrible. But owners must be given time to tear them down and build new buildings, which would be the best thing to do. What I complain of are certain buildings that have been patched up and look worse, if possible, than anything in the most crude and slovenly village. The only remedy I can suggest, to get rid of these buildings and make the street presentable, is for the wide-awake merchants on the street to get together and bring pressure to bear on the owners of the freak houses. It would be much better to have the lots vacant than de-

BY A JURY OF HIS PEERS.

What a commentary it is on today's United States that a Federal Judge should have felt it necessary to call attention to the constitutional right of a person accused of a crime to be tried by a jury of his peers!

Before Voisard, that ancient principle of our Anglo-Saxon jurisprudence was as far from being questioned as the multiplication table. But this is a new era. Under the Voisard law, a Judge may enjoin a defendant from committing certain offenses against that sacrament act, and if at any time the order is disobeyed he may be haled into court and punished for "contempt." The trial in such a case is by the court; the guarantee of a trial by jury for "all crimes, except in case of impeachment" goes by the board.

It is to Judge L. W. Woodrough of the United States District Court at Omaha that we are indebted for a restatement of the old axiom. Believing it still to be an axiom, as sound today as when it was written into the third article of the Constitution, Judge Woodrough has declared unconstitutional that part of the Voisard act which permits the granting of personal injunctions. A case came before him in which the defendant was accused of five violations of the prohibition law. The prosecution asked for an injunction which would have brought the defendant back into court, subject to a jail sentence for contempt, if at any time he should be found selling or possessing liquor.

Drawing a distinction between a personal injunction and an injunction affecting property, Judge Woodrough ruled for the defense. His words in so doing are memorable:

To my mind the matter does not admit of argument or debate. If this defendant has a bad reputation as a bootlegger, let the matter be inquired into, a charge formulated and a jury of his peers called together.

But the bill in equity, though it is based upon a section of an act of Congress, calls upon the Judge to do that which the Constitution forbids that any Judge shall ever do: to try a person for crime and deprive him of his liberty without a trial.

The Post-Dispatch agrees with Alderman Wimer that ours is not a problem of finance. It is a simple matter of getting started. Let us get started.

GETTING A START.

To get started will probably be the most difficult thing about a rapid transit system for St. Louis, an obstacle beyond which the rest will be easy.

This is happily the opinion of Alderman Wimer, who will bring the subject up at the first meeting of the Board, which resumes its sessions tomorrow. His resolution will propose a commission, largely made up of city officials, to consider the whole transportation problem in St. Louis and the part which rapid transit is to play in it.

It goes without saying that until such a study of the question is made there is no such thing as knowing what the relative values of the different transportation elements are to be. In all great cities the means of transportation are varied. About the only type which has not been suggested for St. Louis is elevated lines. We are fortunately coming to the problem of a metropolitan transportation system at a time when the elevated line is out of date. Our system will consist of subways, surface cars and busses. It remains to be seen how far each can serve the public, as it is certain that none of these is dispensable. The fact that surface cars are declining in popularity does not mean that their usefulness is either ended or about to end. They are serving a purpose in the most modern systems of metropolitan transportation, and they will serve that purpose here.

The chief desideratum, and the one to which the Board of Aldermen must address itself at the outset, is how we are going to get the people downtown in the morning and home at night. They are no longer content to spend from 40 to 50 minutes covering a distance which ought to be, and in every other big city, is traversed in 10 or 15 minutes. This rapid transit, the necessity for which grows with the city, has already been delayed too long. In its absence we have seen the surface cars downtown slowed down by traffic to four miles an hour.

The Post-Dispatch agrees with Alderman Wimer that ours is not a problem of finance. It is a simple matter of getting started. Let us get started.

DEAN INGE COINS A WORD.

The "gloomy dean" of St. Paul's, London, in one of his recent lamentations, predicted that "the whole face of the country will be spotted with bungalow growths, within which childless couples will sleep, after racing about the roads in their little motor cars."

Bungalow! We like the word. We have never been able to swallow electricist, scoff-law or mortician, and can get down realtor only with a wry face. But bungalow is different. Just what it may mean for Dean Inge we are not certain, but for us it conjures up a vivid picture of those strange excrescences that have sprung up, toadstool-like, along our concrete highways. Not even Alice in Wonderland could have coined a more expressive phrase for them than the "bungalow growths" of Dean Inge.

Now if he would only give us a word for the shacks that have been put up on widened Olive street!

DISPIRITED WARRIOR.

Thomas H. Adams, veteran editor of the Vincennes Commercial, does not express great elation over the results of his gallant battle against political corruption in Indiana. Adams of Old Vincennes, as he is called by the Dayton News, undertook the fight again Stephensonism when it must have seemed a hopeless cause, and in a short time he has seen it blossom forth into a crusade of major proportions.

Mr. Adams, apparently, is not satisfied with the conviction of the Mayor of Indiana's capital city, the indictment of Indiana's Governor and the national interest aroused in Indiana's political corruption. He said that he may say, in London's historical Westminster Abbey, will not receive censure in his own country.

There is a chance to add a piece of beauty and art in sculpture, to a city deplorably lacking in monuments, and yet there are those who would defeat the movement for a statue, for the sake of practical usefulness.

The explanation is that the cow is a one-man animal and objects to being milked by anyone but her master. The Judge, desiring to keep the cow intact, agreed to this departure from the routine of the court.

Which we call a racy bit of real Americana.

AMERICANA.

A curious rite was observed by the jury in a recent bank failure case at Chillicothe, Mo., before Judge Utz. Twice a day, every morning and evening, the jury solemnly marched out of the courtroom, down the street five blocks and into the barnyard of one of the jurors. The juror whose home it was then detached himself from the group, approached his cow and milked her, after which he marched back to the courthouse. The explanation is that the cow is a one-man animal and objects to being milked by anyone but her master.

The Judge, desiring to keep the cow intact, agreed to this departure from the routine of the court.

Now if he would only give us a word for the shacks that have been put up on widened Olive street!

A BISHOP ON EVOLUTION.

Stories of the Garden of Eden have become for us only folklore. Darwin's triumph has destroyed the whole theological scheme. Man is not a being who has fallen from the ideal state of perfect innocence. He is an animal who is slowly gaining spiritual understanding, and, with the gain, rising far above his distant ancestors.

Though an American churchman who voiced these sentiments would probably have to do considerable elucidating, it is likely that the Right Rev. Ernest William Barnes, Bishop of Birmingham, England, would say, in his London's historical Westminster Abbey, will not receive censure in his own country.

The explanation is that the cow is a one-man animal and objects to being milked by anyone but her master. The Judge, desiring to keep the cow intact, agreed to this departure from the routine of the court.

Now if he would only give us a word for the shacks that have been put up on widened Olive street!

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR ST. LOUIS.

We hardly expected it to be said of us that about the best thing in New York is the fast train to St. Louis, but we must blushingly admit that this is plainly the discriminating opinion of young Mr. Tunney, 21-year-old heir to the Reynolds tobacco millions.

"I've been giving a party here and living off the rents," Reynolds told the reporters when one of his companions revealed his identity.

He went to the prize fight in Chicago. Just about the time he was faced by the humdrum prospect of returning to New York, where there is nothing for a young rich man to do, he heard of the dog races in St. Louis.

That fetched him. For one purple week he had alternated between the dog tracks and the horse races at Fairmount. He had found a little chop suey place on Grand boulevard that he liked better than Texas Guinan's. What a town it was! The dog races were something new to him. "Aren't they keen?" he asked. "I have won $6000 at the Bret Harte who is peculiar. The independent motorist is also adroit. If we were confined to one guess as to what probably is the best thing we have done to make the streets safer, we would say it is the house sentence for drunken drivers and particularly flagrant violations.

The potency of that most excellent preventive is that anything in the most crude and slovenly village.

The only remedy I can suggest, to get rid of these buildings and make the street presentable, is for the wide-awake merchants on the street to get together and bring pressure to bear on the owners of the freak houses. It would be much better to have the lots vacant than de-

ITALIANS ON DRESS PARADE FOR AMERICAN LEGIONNAIRES

By the Associated Press.

ROME, Sept. 29.—The American Legion "Good Will" delegates spent the evening sightseeing about Rome. A large party went to the famous Tor di Quinto Cavalry School. A banquet will be given this evening by Italian veterans for the visitors.

A great reception was given in the Capitol last night by the Governor of Rome, Prince Potenziani. The Capitol was illuminated brilliantly and decorated with ancient tapestry hanging from the windows, with American and Italian flags and the 14 historic flags of the districts of the City. Police and Firemen in full dress uniform rendered military honors

while footmen in medieval dress lined the grand staircase, holding lighted tapers.

When Commander Savage and the other Legionnaires arrived, the Municipal Band struck up the "Star-Spangled Banner" all standing at attention, followed by the Governor and the National Commander exchanged toasts and felicitations.

In the resolution, which was presented by Kelton E. White of St. Louis, no mention was made of Gov. Martinian's proposal that the Federal Government pay all the cost of flood control. A poll of association leaders before the introduction of the resolution was said to have revealed considerable sentiment in favor of division of the flood control costs between the Mississippi Valley states and the National Government.

The association, which took under consideration the growing problem of possible abuse of the investment trust principle, a matter which is giving no small amount of concern to investment bankers.

The problem was presented to the 600 delegates in the annual report of a committee headed by Charles D. Dickey of Philadelphia, who declared that it would be the policy of the association to cooperate fully with state and Federal authorities "to prevent any abuse to which the investment trust idea is in danger of being subjected."

Review of Progress.

Sketching the recent phenomenal growth of investment trusts in the United States, Dickey reported they had doubled in number in the last five months, and that there are now 95 organizations of this kind with total assets of $400,000,000.

Apprehension over the prospect that the investment trusts would "get out of hand and become a playground for incompetent and dishonest promoters" was expressed in Dickey's report.

"The buoyant stock market of the last few years" the committee found, "together with the steady decline in interest rates, has stimulated optimism regarding the investment trusts to a point not justified. It is almost a certainty that this over-optimism will be capitalized by those who are constantly looking for an opportunity to make a quick turnover at the public's expense."

SERB ACCUSED OF INCITING

His Country's Refusal to Surrender

Precipitated World War.

By the Associated Press

VIENNA, Sept. 29.—Milan Giljanovitch, 49 years old, mentioned in the Austria ultimatum to Serbia on the eve of the World War as one of the conspirators in the assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria and the Archduchess at Sarajevo, died yesterday in Serbia.

Giljanovitch, it is recalled, was believed to have elaborated the plan for the murder of the Austrian Archduke and procured the arms and false passports for the plotters. In article seven of the ultimatum Austria demanded that Serbia arrest and deliver him and his superior, Maj. Vojko Tankovich. This Serbia refused, thus precipitating the war.

Maj. Tankovich was reported to have been killed in action at Kragujevatz in December, 1915.

The actual assassin of the Archduke and his wife was Gaviric Princip, who died in an Austrian prison in 1918.

By the Associated Press
CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 29.—Turkey must be "at home" Oct. 28 when 60,000 officials will be charged with the formidable task of taking the first complete census ever compiled in the country.

Transportation will cease, schools will be closed and anyone who sneaks out of his house before noon will be subject to fine and even imprisonment.

The Prime Minister, Ismet Pasha, is preparing a proclamation to explain to the country the importance of the census and to dissipate the popular fear that its aim is the collection of more taxes or a new military conscription.

By Nov. 1 the population of Turkey—at present hardly estimated at anywhere from 8,000,000 to 12,000,000—will be known for the first time in the nation's history.

By the Associated Press

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 29.—Permanent flood control for the Mississippi River and its tributaries has been declared by the Investment Bankers Association of America to be a national duty which demands the immediate attention of the Federal Government.

The association unanimously adopted a resolution in its sixteenth annual convention here yesterday declaring the loss of life and property from floods in the Mississippi basin "seriously affects the economic welfare of the entire nation." The Federal Government was called upon to take "immediate steps to deal promptly, efficiently and permanently with this pressing national problem."

Much Better than Soda for Sour, Gassy Stomach

EVERYONE who has used common soda for gas or sour stomach knows that it is only temporary relief. Soda has no affinity on the cause, and it is only by getting at the root of the trouble, intestinal stasis, that lasting relief is obtained.

"I tried to get relief from soda, as I used to do for some time. Seeing Adlerika advertised, I decided to try it. The result has been wonderful. It is far better than soda."

—McNEIL, C. A.

"Stomach gas caused me a lot of misery. Drinking hot water with soda gave only little relief. Adlerika surprised me. It stopped gas bloating and ended my headaches." —Vera M. Roth.

Quick Action Surprises

AS GENTLY and naturally as taking a drink of water, Adlerika acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowels, bringing immediate relief from gas bloating, intestinal stasis and chronic constipation.

The very FIRST dose of Adlerika often brings out astonishing amounts of old waste matter from the intestinal canal. This poisonous matter may be brought in an intestinal tract, long time, causing gas, headache, sleeplessness and many other symptoms. A treatment of a few weeks with Adlerika often cures constipation and intestinal stasis, so that just a small dose, now and then, keeps the intestines and stomach in a most satisfactory condition.

What Doctors Say

B. H. LOUIS SHOUR, B. Sc., well-known New York pathologist, after laboratory tests on living subjects, states that Adlerika very markedly reduces the number of amoebae and colon bacilli. This feature increases the therapeutic value of Adlerika because, in addition to its intestinal cleansing action, it inhibits the growth of these intestinal bacteria.

Dr. A. J. Lancaster, physician of over a quarter century's active experience, makes this statement: "In the treatment of gastro-intestinal disorders (which include constipation) Adlerika is an equal to any other medicine."

Dr. Carl Weesche, a graduate of the world-famous medical University of Heidelberg, Germany, in his private practice, first perfected the intestinal cleanser and carminative now known as Adlerika. It is a result of a specially prepared saline intestinal evacuant with buckthorn and cascara, together with glycerine and other ingredients which expel gas and have deobstrutive action.

Adlerika, unlike most other medicines, acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowels. It is recommended for many physicians as the one dependable remedy for gas, intestinal stasis and chronic constipation. It is also a real intestinal cleansing is needed.

No matter what you have tried for the bowels and stomach, Adlerika will surprise you. Even if you move every day, Adlerika may surprise you by bringing out poisonous, gas-forming matter. Sold by over 30,000 druggists.

which you would never believe was in your system.

In just a single month, over one thousand men and women wrote that they had a wonderful relief from even a short time using Adlerika.

Many of them said that now, after all other treatments and medicines had failed, they are at last rid of gas, indigestion, sour stomach, sleeplessness, nervousness, other trouble due to their cases to intestinal stasis. And now, these folks say, they are again able to eat and enjoy the foods they have been deprived of.

No matter what you have tried for the bowels and stomach, Adlerika will surprise you. Even if you move every day, Adlerika may surprise you by bringing out poisonous, gas-forming matter. Sold by over 30,000 druggists.

Rug No. 4580. 6 x 9 ft. to 9 x 15 ft.

For the first time..

pretty, inexpensive rugs with the special "Accolac" finish

Real lacquer, lacquer that defies hard wear and repeated soap-and-water washings—that's "Accolac," the time-enduring finish you'll find on these new Armstrong's Quaker-Felt Rugs.

This lustrous protection makes these rugs look expensive. But that's as far as high price clings. Even the generous 9-foot by 12-foot size, for instance, costs no more than a good pair of shoes.

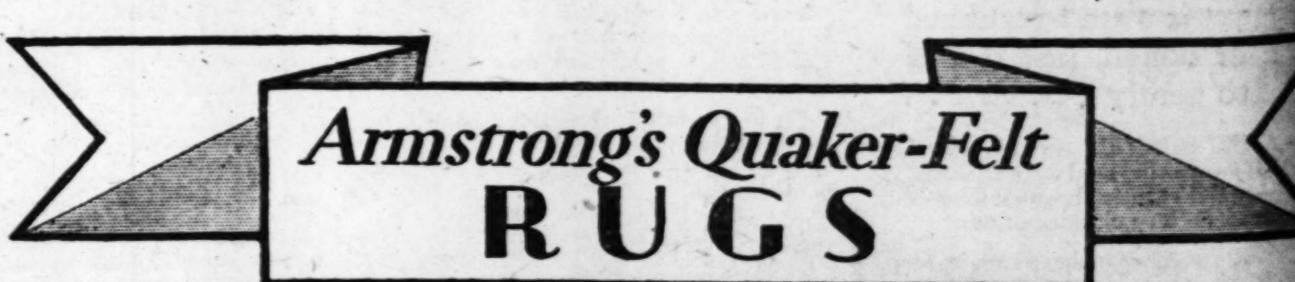

Each design is a new idea in rug effects. Each design is printed with heavy, rich-toned oils. You'll find patterns for any room, and each rug bears on its face a "money-worth" certificate of satisfaction. If you rent, these rugs will have a particular appeal—they're so easily rolled up and moved about.

Quaker-Felt Rugs (as well as Quaker-Felt in roll form of 6-foot and 9-foot widths) are on display this week at local stores.

Numbered Certificate on face of each Rug

With each Quaker-Felt Rug you receive a Certificate of Guarantee. If the rug should fail to give you your money's-worth in service, this certificate entitles you to a brand-new rug.

ADMIRAL CITED TO EXPLAIN NEW CRITICISM OF NAVY

Secretary Wilbur Calls Magruder on Interview Regarding Attack in Recent Article.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Regarding Rear Admiral T. P. Magruder's article in the Saturday Evening Post criticizing the Navy's administration as a closed incident, Secretary Wilbur now is directing an inquiry into a newspaper interview by the naval officer in which he was represented as supporting his views in the magazine with vigorous language.

The interview, which was printed in the New York Times, formed the principal subject of a conference between the Secretary and the Admiral yesterday. Although it was understood the controversy over the magazine article has been ended, Wilbur indicated he was planning to make another investigation into whether the Admiral had violated any naval regulations in giving his views to newspaper men.

Magruder told the Secretary that he had informed the affair, if it caused any embarrassment to Wilbur and that he had no criticism of officials of the department, his purpose in writing the article being only to disseminate useful information about the Navy.

Admiral Ready to Co-operate.

Wilbur declared the Admiral had indicated his desire to co-operate with the Navy in its chief policies and had requested the conference to tell his chief that his attitude had been incorrectly recorded in the newspapers.

Wilbur announced the Admiral had filed with the department a statement which he said correctly outlined the views that were covered in the newspaper story. Although the Secretary did not make public the statement, he said that he understood Magruder's views had been inaccurately depicted in the interview.

The interview "did not properly represent my position," the Admiral said after the conference, explaining that "it was ridiculous
when it said that I scowled and used gestures" because he was talking over the telephone late at night.

The New York Times in a statement issued at New York denied that the story it printed contained the reference that the Admiral
"scowled and used gestures" and
"in fact there was no indication whatsoever that the interview was not obtained over the telephone."

The Times added, "It was not aware of the manner of obtaining the interview at the time it was printed, disclosing the story came through its alliance with the Philadelphia Inquirer. "The Admiral may have been referring to an interview in some other newspaper," concluded the newspaper's statement.

The Admiral said in regard to his disagreement with the article that there was no chance of his being court-martialed as he had obeyed regulations
by filing a copy of it with the Navy Department. Although the article
"may have been lurid in spots," the Admiral asserted, "it was fundamentally correct."

Wilbur in discussing the Admiral's charges of too much red tape in the department, said that for the past year naval officials had been endeavoring to reduce the amount of correspondence in the administering of the navy's affairs.

Appeal of Ousted Commissioner

Brings Ruling by Government

Enforcement Dutes.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Prohibition enforcement officials are not required to report to United States Attorneys violations of dry laws coming to their knowledge,
the Government held in a brief filed today in the Supreme Court in an appeal by John P. Donnelly, former Federal Prohibition Director for Nevada.

Donnelly was convicted in the Federal District Court for Nevada on the charge of having unlawfully withheld information from the United States Attorney for that District information which had come to him charging James A. Curran with violating the prohibition law by hauling intoxicating liquor into Nevada.

The Circuit Court of Appeals asked the Supreme Court for instructions on the point, and the brief today declared that in view of the "well established rule that offenses should be created only in laws that need not deceive the common mind, that every man might be able to know with certainty when he is committing a crime," the Government was inclined to the view that the question should be answered in the negative.
Should that view be taken by the Supreme Court, the proceedings against Donnelly must be dismissed.

He'll find a friend in the baggage car of every Pennsylvania train

Variety is the law of life with the baggage-master on THE AMERICAN

*"The animals went in two by two
The elephant and the kangaroo."*

NOT that the baggage car of any Pennsylvania train is a Noah's Ark on wheels, nor are Pennsylvania baggage-masters selected because of their affection for animals. But the natural liking which most of them have for pets is typical of the friendly spirit of Railroad Men.

Marco Polo crossed the mountains of Tibet laden with the wonders of the Orient. Thirty camels, a hundred elephants have been reported in his caravan. Casks of precious stones, bales of shimmering silks, chests of gold medallions, ivory, jade . . . these he brought back to blind the City Council of Venice.

And his baggage told a stranger tale than any he could frame with words.

More than 7,000,000 pieces of baggage are handled each year in the baggage cars of Pennsylvania trains. And the tales they tell of miraculous travel dwarf the wonders of Marco Polo's caravan. A battered suitcase, cherished because it has seen the sirocco come blazing up across the Sahara. A shining wardrobe trunk, fresh from the continental spas. Golf bags and bicycles, perambulators and theater props, parrots and dogs, they form an epic of modern travel.

A half million passengers each day, twenty thousand pieces of luggage . . . the smooth, efficient, careful handling of this vast modern "caravan" is a daily miracle of modern transportation.

JURY ACQUITS MAN FOUND WITH STILL

Word of Joseph A. Zipp Taken Over That of Agents—
23 to Jail.

A jury in Federal Judge Davis' court freed another alleged violator of the dry law yesterday, against whom prohibition agents had a very strong case. To acquit the defendant the jury had to accept his word against the sworn statements of Chief Enforcement Officer James Dillon and three aids.

While Joseph A. Zipp, arrested near Jefferson City in a barn with a still running at full steam, was acquitted by jury, 23 violators of the Volstead Law were headed to jail, bringing the total to 76 for sellers or makers of liquor sent to prison following their own admissions in court in the last three days.

Jury Convicts Cafe Owner.

Another jury, continuing its deliberations today after a failure yesterday to reach a verdict, found Tom Parker, restaurant owner, 801 South Second street, guilty of selling liquor. Parker denied he sold liquor to two prohibition agents and their informer at 20 cents a glass. He said the agents and the informer, once an employee of his, told him they had just got out of workhouse and were cold and needed a drink.

The agents said Parker accepted 60 cents and rang it up on the cash register, but Parker told the court the 60 cents had been left on the counter by another customer who bought dinner, and insisted the tray had their drinks gratis. The jury deliberated about two hours. Judge Davis gave him the limit—six months in jail.

Found Zipp With Still.

In the Zipp trial, Dillon and his aids testified they were at Antioch, near Jefferson City, Jan. 20, on a tour of investigation when they smelled mash and traces of a still. They did not have a search warrant, but nevertheless advanced on the barn to which they traced the odors. As they drew near several men ran out of the barn and disappeared. The agents entered and found Zipp, 70 gallon of whisky, 18,000 gallons of mash and a 250-gallon still in full operation.

The agents testified Zipp had told them he was employed at $5 a day to help operate the still.

Zipp, on the witness stand, denied he had made such a statement, and declared he merely entered the barn looking for work as farmhand. When the other men ran, he, being innocent, stayed in the barn, he told the jury. He was acquitted.

In addition to the 23 who went to jail, six paid fines. The total of fines collected in the last three days is $12,870.

Says He Filled Demand.

That he was a law-abiding citizen before the Volstead Law was passed, and that he now sold liquor only in response to the incessant demand of his customers was the plea for leniency made by Hector V. Girard, storekeeper of Valley Park, Mo., in admitting his guilt. He was sentenced to 20 days and fined $450.

Other sentences were: William Eason, 6432 Gravois avenue, 20 days and $450 fine; Henry J. Fleiselman, 1434 North Taylor avenue, 60 days; Charles Gianind, 511 North Vandeventer avenue, 30 days and $1250 fine; Joe Inchostro, 4203 Clay avenue, 60 days and $450 fine; Michael M. 60 days and $450 fine; Don Biomarito, 6 months for operating a still; Walter Rucker, 20 days and $450 fine; Edward L. Schwent, St. Genevieve, Mo., 20 days; Fred Schroeder, 30 days and $100 fine; Frank Sommer, 30 days and $450 fine; Frank Tucker Blasmarck, Mo., 30 days; Michael Wolff, Fenton, Mo., 60 days; Louis Merkel, 60 days.

Eight other defendants were sent to the St. Charles and Warren County jails to serve out fines.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Prices fluctuated rather erratically in today's stock market until just before the close, when a series of bullish demonstrations in some of the high priced industrial specialties induced sufficient buying interest to give closing quotations the appearance of strength. Marking up of the call money rate to 4 per cent, followed by the calling of about $15,000,000 in loans, tended to put a dampener on bullish enthusiasm exhibited in the session.

Losses Increase to $21,873,000.

Fears of a sharp increase in brokers' loans this week, variably estimated from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000, proved to be unfounded as the figures, published after the close of the market, showed a gain of only $21,873,000, bringing the total of losses to a new high record of $3,305,623,000, as against $2,812,971,000 a year ago. Wall Street had looked for a larger increase because of the completion of settlements in general motors (new stock), trading in which recently was changed from a "when issued" to a regular basis.

Admission of the Fisher interests to the directorate of the Baldwin Locomotive board was followed by a jump of nearly 10 points in Baldwin common to 257 1/2. Houston Oil, which was widely "tipped" in special issues from Baltimore, also soared nearly 10 points to 158 1/4. Abithi Power, which has been mentioned in recent public utility merger rumors, soared nearly 13 points to a peak of 127 1/2, which caused to 125. International Paper advanced more than four points to a new top at 61, and U. S. Cast Iron Pipe and National Tea advanced four and six points, respectively.

Weakness in Commodities.

Weakness again crept out in the commodity markets. Cotton broke about $3 a barrel as a result of the bearish interpretation placed upon the Bureau of Agricultural Economic's estimate of the indicated carry-over of cotton. Wheat dropped about a cent a bushel on reports of more favorable weather. Sugar was unchanged and coffee ruled slightly higher.

General Motors issues improved slightly, with some sales developed in the other motor cars. Dodge Bros. common and preferred, Pierce-Arrow common and Wards-Overland common sold at their low prices of the year, or longer, and Chrysler showed an extreme loss of two points, part of which was later recovered.

Stocks again active in a number of specialties. New peaks for the year, longer, were established by American Sumatra Tobacco, American Cigars, G. W. Helme, Liggett & Myers, B. Frank G. Shattuck, Indian Motor Cycle and International Match preferred. Savage Arms and American Beet Sugar sold at their lowest prices of the year.

C. & O. Is Higher.

Van Sweringen issues again featured the rail group with Chesapeake & Ohio common, Chesapeake Corporation and "Nickel Plate" all reaching new high marks.

Except for a drop of 10 points in Japanese yen to 46.49 cents, there were no changes of importance in the foreign exchange market.

Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged. The New York Federal Reserve Bank also announced a continuation of the 3/4 per cent rediscount rate.

QUESTIONS DRY LAW BENEFITS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—J. M. Gibbons, general attorney for the New York, New Haven & Hartford, told a group of lawyers at a luncheon that he was skeptical of the improvements among working men accredited to prohibition by certain well-known people he checked up. He said, on a statement of Commander Evangeline Booth of the Salvation Army.

With the permission of the Salvation Army, he went through its records, he said, and failed to find a single instance in which a person who drank to excess before prohibition had ceased to do so because of prohibition, or a single instance of a family that had been kept in poverty through liquor consumption but which now had a bank account. He had challenged the Salvation Army to support Commander Booth's generalization by finding some such cases, he said, but had received reports of none.

Gibbons said that railroad executives have in many instances reversed their attitude on prohibition, sure.

THE WAY OF A WOMAN
By MARGUERITE MOERS MARSHALL

MOVIE MATRIMONY ON THE MOVE.

Now it's Gloria Swanson who is rumored to be on the point of divorcing the Marquis de la Falaise, herself having been divorced two earlier mates. Charlie Chaplin is traveling west to fight his divorce suit. Constance Talmadge's mother says that Connie will soon be about the business. Of divorcing her English spouse, Capt. Alastair Mackintosh. Although he's a charming chap, and they're still in love, she just can't live with him any longer. She divorced her first husband several years ago. Capt. Mackintosh obtained a decree the other day. Separating her from Bert Lytell, Helen Dene has been granted a divorce from Rudolph Myrtle. But what's the use of going on with the roll of ruptured Hollywood romances? A newspaper woman, who is a friend of ours, started to collect a series of articles on "Happy Homes in Hollywood." Before she could bring her stuff East, every "happy home" of her collection had busted up. Except Norma Talmadge's and Joe Schenck's. Movie matrimony seems forever on the move. Other American couples, of course, get divorces. There's Helen Wainwright, the swimming star, who says that her marriage to George Leonard Holland was a joke. And who plans to ask for an annulment. There's Doris Stevens, feminist, who is divorcing Dudley Field Malone. Because—or so friends explain it—the two have equally strong minds. And therefore can't get together. Even though their romance still flourishes. Nevertheless, it is the percentage of swimmers or feminists or just everyday folk who can't stay wed. As big as the percentage of con-jugally restless screen stars? It doesn't seem so—And it does seem rather a pity for the stars! There are those good-looking young men and women. With money, fame, interesting work, all the advantages most of us want and can't get—with nothing to do, apparently, except manage their personal relations. With some intelligence—and they just aren't bright enough, hardly any of them. To make marriage work? It's a pity, not merely on their account, but because they, more than any other group, are the heroes and heroines of American youth. And that youth, watching the dissolving partnerships of moviedom as intensely as its latest romance, must be made just a bit more cynical about love and life. The movie idols may not have feet of clay. But so many of their marriages are of the earth, earthy. So many idols are far from ideals in the matter of married life. The question is, why? Does the popularity of the picture stars make them so conceited that they can't get along at close quarters with another ego? Does their wealth and the pleasure it commands turn them into spoiled, self-indulgent, greedy children? Are their minds and hearts tainted by the crude melodrama of the scenarios. So that the comedy and quiet realism of married life bore them? Do they carry the "temperament" of the studio and the set into the domestic intimacies? They marry for love in the first place. Or, if they don't, they could and should—Why does love forever seem to be flying out of the windows of their beautiful Hollywood homes? They have everything in the world to make them happy—Those golden lads and lasses of the silver screen—And again and over again, they fail to be happy together. It is because, to be tempered into permanence. Love-in-marriage must go through the fires of pain and struggle shared—Because a man and woman must work and suffer together—not merely laugh and love and play—To be really husband and wife? Oh, well, the youngsters who go to the movies can know that until they grow up. Perhaps the youngsters who make the movies and the marriage failures—don't know it yet. Because they never have grown up—and maybe never will.

REGISTRATION. Oh, I shall be the first to reach your door. To clasp you by the hand and wish you well. Then I shall know that I alone deplore the love for you that holds me in its spell. My heart shall always be a slender flower. We shall want of sun and air and dew. And I shall feel a loneliness devour this youthful spirit that was meant for you. Oh, I shall be the first to reach your door... And there I shall be standing evermore.

TRAAL THAISIS.

Children's Bedtime Story
By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Cubby Makes Up His Mind

Who selfishly gives way to greed
To others pays but little heed.

—Old Mother Nature.

CUBBY was having a good time. He was having a wonderful time. Those blueberries certainly did taste good. It was so long since he had had any that he had forgotten how good they were. Like all little bears, he was greedy. Greedy folk can seldom think of anything but their stomachs when they have food. So Cubby just didn't pay any attention to anything but the gobbling up of many of those blueberries as he could get. When he had stripped one branch he would pull down another. You see, these were high-bush blueberries. Presently he found a place where a low-bush blueberries grew. He didn't have to stand up to eat these; he just walked along, gobbling them up like a pig.

At last Cubby paused to rest. It was then he looked around for Farmer Brown's Boy. He didn't see him. He stood up on his hind feet and looked in all directions. He peered behind the bushes. There was no Farmer Brown's Boy. He didn't know what to make of it. No, sir, he didn't know what to make of it. Could it be that Farmer Brown's Boy had left him all alone?

Now, perhaps it sounds queer to you, but that little bear suddenly became frightened. He didn't want to be left alone in the Old Pasture. Farmer Brown's Boy wasn't anywhere around and Mother Bear wasn't anywhere around and he was homesick and afraid.

Old Jed Thurper, the gray old rabbit who lives up in the Old Pasture, thumped the ground very hard in a tumble-tumble just back of the little bear. Cubby jumped and actually took to his heels. It was the first time he had ever heard a rabbit thump and he didn't know what it was. Mrs. Grouse, suddenly whirled up from almost under his nose and frightened him so that he fell over backward. It was his first experience with Mrs. Grouse. He didn't like that place. He didn't like that place, Cubby. "I want to go home," whimpered Cubby. "I want to go home." And the funny part of it is that when Cubby jumped and actually took to his heels.

Baked Chowder

PUT in a buttered baking dish a layer of cold, boiled onions, sliced. Then a layer of cold, boiled onions. Then a layer of the layers, using a can of tuna, about two cups of potatoes and a little less than two cups of onions. Season each layer with a little salt and add butter. Now pour over the whole one can of tomato soup and add some water if not moist enough. Cover with bread crumbs and bake in a hot oven one-half an hour.

The one-strap slipper has the same heel and last. The important point about the oxford is its low cut. There are only three eyelets—that's all there is room for. The T-strap slipper has a high French heel, not quite so straight as the heels on the other shoes.

At times delicately colored kid is stenciled to resemble lizard. The evening slippers have this difference from those of last year. They are cut very low at the side and show a great deal of the foot. A number of smart women choose the one or two models that are most flattering to their feet and buy them in all the colors and fabrics they will need.

The BENSON MURDER CASE By S. S. VAN DINE © CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS

THIS HAS HAPPENED. A woman's gloves and handbag are found at the scene of Benson's murder and a large gray automobile is reported to have been standing outside at midnight. Markham, tells Vance he has traced the handbag to Miss St. Clair and Vance insisted she is innocent. Markham agreed to let him be present in his office when he interviews the girl, when he interviews the girl.

NOW BEGIN THE STORY

CHAPTER XIV.

"Any news of the car?" asked

A Markham.

Heath grunted his disgust.

"Not a word. And that's why, too, seeing all the advertising it got. Those fishing-rods are the only things we've got. • • • The inspector, by the way, sent me the post-mortem report this morning, but it didn't tell us anything we didn't know."

"Translated into human language, it said Benson died from a shot in the head, with all his organs sound. It's a wonder, though, they didn't discover that he'd been poisoned with a Mexican bean or an African snake, or something, so's to make the case little more intrikkit than it already is."

"Cheer up, Sergeant," Markham exhorted him. "I've had a little better luck. Tracy ran down the owner of the handbag and found out she'd been to dinner with Benson that night. He and Phelps also learned a few other supplementary facts that fit in well; and I'm expecting the lady here at any minute. I'm going to find out what she has to say for her self."

An expression of resentment tripped across his features, but he came into Heath's eyes as the Director said it at once and began asking questions.

Markham gave him every detail, and also informed him of Leander Pifte.

"I'll let you know immediately how the interview comes out," he concluded.

As the door closed on Heath Vance looked up at Markham with a sly smile.

"Not exactly one of Nietzsche's supermen, what? I know the subtleties of this complex world because him a bit, y' know. • • • And he's so disappoin'tin'! I felt positively elated when the bustling lad with the thick glasses announced his presence. I thought surely he wanted to tell you he had jailed at least six of Benson's murderers."

"You hope run too high, I fear," commented Markham.

And yet, that's the usual procedure. The police in their great moral dailies are to be censured; the moment a crime was committed the police began arresting people promiscuously—to maintain the excitement, don't y' know. Another illusion gone! "Sa," said, "he murmured. "I shan't forgive our Heath; he has betrayed my faith in him."

At this point Markham's secretary came to the door and announced the arrival of Miss St. Clair.

I think we were all taken a little aback at the spectacle presented by this young woman as she came slowly into the room with a firm graceful step, and with her head held slightly to one side in an attitude of supercilious inquiry.

She was small and strikingly pretty, although "pretty" is not exactly the word with which to describe her. She possessed that faint, coquettish quality that we find in the portraits of the Carracci, who sweetened the severity of Leonardo and made it at once intimate and decent.

Her eyes were dark and widely spaced; her nose was delicate and straight; and her forehead broad. Her full sensuous lips were almost sculptured in their linear precision, and her mouth wore an enigmatic smile, or hint of a smile. Her rounded firm chin was a bit heavy when examined apart from the other features, but not in the ensemble.

There was poise and a certain strength of character in her bearing; but one sensed the potentialities of powerful emotions beneath her exterior calm. Her clothes harmonized with her personality; they were quiet and apparently in the conventional style, but a touch of color and originality here and there conferred on them a fascinating distinction.

Markham rose and, bowing with formal courtesy, indicated a comfortable upholstered chair directly in front of his desk.

With a barely perceptible nod, she glanced at the chair, and then seated herself in a straight armless chair standing next to it.

"I don't mind, I'm sure," she said. "I like my own chair for the inquisition."

Her voice was low and resonant—the speaking voice of the highly trained singer. She smiled as she spoke, but it was not a cordial smile; it was cold and distant, yet somehow indicative of levity.

"Miss St. Clair," began Markham in a tone of polite severity, "the murderer of Mr. Alvin Benson has intimately involved yourself. Before taking any definite steps, I have invited you here to talk you a few questions. I can, therefore, advise you quite honestly that frankness will best serve your interests."

He paused, and the woman looked at him with an ironically questioning gaze.

"I am supposed to thank you for your generous advice!"

Markham's scowl deepened as he glanced down at a typewritten page on his desk.

"You are probably aware that your gloves and handbag were found in Mr. Benson's house the morning after he was shot," she said. "I can understand how you might have traced the handbag to me," she said, "but how did you arrive at the conclusion that the gloves were mine?"

Markham looked up sharply.

"Do you mean to say the gloves are not yours?"

"Oh, no." She gave him another wry smile. "I merely wondered how you knew they belonged to me, since you couldn't have known either my taste in gloves or the size I wore."

"They're your gloves, then?"

"If they are, then I have five and one-quarter of white kid and elbow length, they are certainly mine."

And I'd so like to have them back, if you don't mind."

"I'm sorry," said Markham, "but it is necessary that I keep them for the present."

She dismissed the matter with a slight shrug of the shoulders.

"Do you mind if I smoke?" she asked.

Markham instantly opened a drawer of his desk, and took out a box of Benson & Hedges cigarettes.

"I have my own, thank you," she informed him. "But I would so appreciate your holder. I've missed it."

Markham hesitated. He was manifestly annoyed by the woman's attitude.

"I'll be glad to lend it to you," he compromised; and reaching into another drawer of his desk, he laid the holder on the table before her.

"Now, Miss St. Clair," he said, resuming his gravity of manner, "will you tell me how these personal articles of yours happened to be in Mr. Benson's living room?"

"Mr. Markham, I will not," she answered.

"Do you realize the serious construction your refusal places upon the circumstances?"

"I really hadn't given it much thought." Her tone was indifferent.

"It would be well if you did," Markham advised her. "Your position is not an enviable one; and the presence of your belongings in Mr. Benson's room is, by no means, the only thing that connects you directly with the crime."

The woman raised her eyes inquisitively, and again the enigmatic smile appeared at the corners of her mouth.

"Perhaps you have sufficient evidence to accuse me of the murder?"

Markham ignored this question.

"You were well acquainted with Mr. Benson, believe?"

"The finding of my handbag and gloves in his apartment might lead you to believe as much, might it?" she parried.

"He was, in fact, much interested in you?" persisted Markham.

She made a face, and sighed.

"Alas, yes! Too much for my peace of mind. . . . Have I been brought here to discuss the attentions this gentleman paid me?"

Again Markham ignored her query.

"Where were you, Miss St. Clair, between the time you left the Marquette at midnight and the time you arrived home—which I understand, was after 1 o'clock?"

"You are simply wonderful!" she exclaimed. "You seem to know everything. . . . Well, I can only say that during that time I was on my way home."

"Did it take you an hour to go from Fort Street to Eighty-first and Riverside drive?"

"I can only say a few minutes more or less, perhaps."

"How do you account for that?"

Markham was becoming impatient.

"I can't account for it," she said, "except by the passage of time. Time does fly, doesn't it, Mr. Markham?"

Is your radio ready to receive it—clearly and surely? One vacuum tube, used too long, may spoil the fun you plan tonight. Replace all your tubes at least once a year with genuine RCA Radiotrons. It is good insurance to keep a spare set in reserve.
